With the British Army in France, Aug. 16.—The enemy artillery was active last night from one end of the British front to the other. The activity was especially marked along the new battle front in the region of LaBasse on the northern front where there was heavy shell bombardment. It was in a movement of this kind that Damery was captured yesterday.

There are no further reports of widespread withdrawals in this region although the enemy seems to have abandoned several of his small forward positions. On the other hand British patrols that crossed the Aisne last night were fired upon and forced to return.

JUST DAVID
By ELEANOR H. PORTER
Author of "Pollyanna"
Ten year old David and his father (a famous violinist) lived on a mountain, with the woods, the wild things, and their two violins. Then a change came and David was left to the care of gruff farmer folk in whom the warmth of kindness was buried deep. But "Just David" brought music and sunshine into many lives and played a part in a very pretty romance.

(Signed) H. A. GARFIELD.

Mr. Slayton's reply, sent to Washington, was as follows:

"I accept the appointment as fuel administrator for the state of New Hampshire. I realize of course that it is not an easy position to fill and that its incumbent is likely to receive much more condemnation than praise, no matter how much he strives to do his best. But in your help and Mr. Slayton's aid, the cooperation of our local men in the state who I believe will honestly do all they can, give you my very best efforts for an efficient and successful administration."

FROM OVER THERE

From Edwin Rowe to Mrs. Fred L. Rowe, Elliot, Me.

"Somewhere in France, July 4, 1918.

"My Darling Mother—Will write you to let you know that I am alive and still feeling fine; hope this letter will find you the same.

"I have just received eight nice long letters, four from you, and from one of my bosom friends, Mr. Smith of Portsmouth, the others from friends, all at one time. Why, Mother, I am one of the happiest dough boys in France tonight. No tobacco, no money, no drink and last but not the least, I haven't even got a girl, ha! ha! ha! What should we care as long as we are well and happy; health, love and happiness is what I call life you're jiving for. I do not care for tobacco, etc., as long as I know that my dear ones at home are well.

"I have waited long and patiently to hear from you all; you see it takes one whole month for a letter to reach me and sometimes longer, as we are traveling so much it is hard to find us.

"Now, Mother, don't think I will not be willing to come home after the war is over. If I do say that the more I see of France the better I like it; because I will.

"Everything is so nice over here, the gardens are looking fine; you can go miles and miles and see nothing but acres of grain, either wheat, oats, rye. I tell you it is a great country after all I wish I could write more about this country but I can't write much.

"Tell father and the rest not to work too hard. I want to see him feeling fine when I come back home. Tell him I have not forgotten how a spring chicken looks. Well, I am sorry, I say I have not received any package from you at all since I left Camp Devens. Perhaps I will later.

"Tell Willie to come over and see me it is only about three thousand six hundred miles across the pond; just a nice little trip. I would like to see him tonight.

"Well, tell Dad that we have got old

At 4.30 Mrs. Nazro of Oerish Island who has just returned from Paris, read a very interesting paper, detailing her experiences while working with the association of the American Fund for French Wounded. Her familiarity with the French language was of great assistance to the nurses while there in hospital, work and in distribution of comfort bags and also in the supply and distribution of clothing to refugees. Mrs. Nazro has gathered a vast amount of information during her work abroad and gave many details of the expedients which the poorer people have been obliged to utilize in order to maintain existence in the devastated region. She spoke of the desolation existing on all hands and the gratification with which the materials furnished by the Fund were received. She urged all to do everything in their power to further the worthy cause which she advocated. After the speaking refreshments were served and a social hour held. About 100 attended including many guests from nearby towns. Mrs. Thaxter and Miss Jennison proved very graceful hostesses. It was a very interesting meeting from start to finish and one of the most successful held here for a long time.

Mrs. Elizabeth Upham and daughter, Frances of Portsmouth were visitors at Kittery Point on Thursday.

The Germans were known to have built six of these types, two the Deutschland and Brenan, have been sunk or captured and the others converted into fighting ships.

Large Promise in the Farm Tractor.

There is a steady increase in the use of the farm tractor in this part of the country and appearances indicate that it will in a few years be in much more common use than it is now. The machine is proving its practicability and demonstrating that it is an economical power on land where it can be used to advantage, and this means that as farmers become more familiar with it the tractor will come into more general use.

In Massachusetts much work has been done with farm tractors this year, the state having provided a number of them for the use of farmers and war gardeners and sending them to sections where there was enough work to be done to warrant the undertaking. The farm tractor is too expensive for the small land holder, but a number of gardeners and small farmers can club together in owning or employing one to do their plowing and harrowing, as many Massachusetts men did this year, and in this way the use of the machine is brought within reach without undue expense.

The tractors are being used to excellent advantage on a large farm in Lancaster, Mass., where the government has a prison camp in which 100 German sailors are detained. The farm comprises 360 acres and is worked by the prisoners under skilled supervision. Considerable of the land had never been plowed before, but the tractors and gang plows turned it over in a hurry and good crops are being produced. It is said that enough potatoes will be raised to supply Camp Devens for three months, and as the population of the camp is about 40,000 this means something. One hundred acres of winter wheat will be put in this month, and every part of the farm is conducted on an equally liberal scale.

The probability is that if it had not been for the farm tractor this enterprise would never have been undertaken. The land was so hard that to have broken it up by horse power would doubtless have cost more than the proceeds would have warranted. In New York state thousands of acres have been placed under cultivation which would have lain idle if it had not been for the farm tractor, which there is reason to believe has a great future in American agriculture. It is not the thing for every little patch of land, but it comes in handy where enough such patches adjoin to give it a chance for action, while on the big farm where the land is of a suitable character it certainly has its place, according to reports from sections where it has been given a fair trial.

The development of the farm tractor is only one more step in the marvelous progress of the times. It provides power where power is needed, and does this economically. It will never replace the horse entirely, but as the motor car has practically crowded him off the roads, so the farm tractor promises to crowd him from the furrow, in which he has been supreme since the passing of the patient ox.

The appointment of Hovey E. Slayton as fuel administrator for New Hampshire places the duties in the hands of a most capable man. Hovey Slayton is one of the ablest business men in the state and he is sure to give the position able and efficient service, which will help a delicate situation. Ex-Gov. Charles M. Floyd, who has been forced to retire on account of ill health, has done great work and he has proven one of the best in New England.

It is said that some retail dealers are passing the government tax along to consumers by adding it to the price of the goods, and that this is even being done in the sale of automobiles. What a pity it is that a law cannot be passed and enforced to make every man honest and honorable.

These are days of big things, but the humble one-cent piece is not yet to be despised. In the last fiscal year 445,000,000 of them have been coined, showing that the smallest coin still has its uses in the richest country in the world.

Porto Rico is ready to send 10,000 laborers to the United States to relieve the labor shortage. If they are capable of doing farm work, and willing to do it, it will not take long to place them.

Germany should be interested to know that American machine gun makers are ahead of their schedule. She is aware that American soldiers have been ahead of their schedule for some time.

Germany is said to be ready for a conference on the treatment and exchange of prisoners. When it comes the Allies may be trusted to lay proper emphasis on the element of treatment.

Ludendorff has ordered economizing in men. It is just as well for the German cause and better than being thought of before.

HISTORIC PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Portsmouth Public Library was erected in 1809 for an academy, and was used as such until 1863 when it became a public school. In 1881 it was remodelled and became the home of the Public Library. The building was designed by the celebrated architect Charles Bulfinch, who, also, it will be remembered, designed the Massachusetts state house in Boston. The library is maintained by the city and has a fine endowment for the purchase of books. There are now 23,000 volumes, many of them very rare.

Over 82,000 volumes were given out to the public last year. This is a good record for a city the size of Portsmouth.

They have worked for Portsmouth while the knackers have been welding the hammer.

WANT TRACKLESS TROLLEY LINE TO FREEMAN'S POINT

Atlantic Corporation Working on This New Transportation Project.

One of the many improvements which will likely come with the building operations and increased population at Atlantic Heights is a trackless trolley. This project is now in the hands of the Atlantic Corporation and it is understood will shortly be brought before the city officials for action. Not many years ago, this same enterprise was talked of between Portsmouth and New Castle but nothing ever came of it.

The Atlantic Corporation is anxious for some permanent means of transportation on the highway to Freeman's Point and if the Portsmouth Electric railway does not grasp the opportunity to extend its service lines to the fast growing section of the city, the Atlantic people are going to push the matter of trackless trolley.

Naturally this means much street improvement for the operation of the cars between the points named for streetcars are required to be in first class condition for a line of this kind. The city on the other hand should get some revenue for the operation and location of a public service of this nature.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Daniels to Take a Hand

It is rumored that Secretary Daniels will be tolerated by Secretary Daniels of the Navy, according to a statement by him in a letter to Major Drake apropos of an aviation case there. Unless this practice on the part of owners and landlords stops instantly the houses in question are liable to be commandeered by the government, Daniels declare.

The Secretary's order is the result of the refusal of Sheriff Oliver to evict the family of William Moon from his home. Moon had been paying $7 a month for four rooms, but was recently called upon to pay $5 a week for each room, making a monthly total of more than $40. Called upon to evict the family, Sheriff Oliver refused to do so, and has been summoned to appear in court to show cause why he should not obey the summons.

SPANISH NOTE SENT TO GERMANY

(By Associated Press)

Madrid, Aug. 16.—In the note addressed by Spain to Germany regarding the torpedoing of Spanish vessels, announcement of the dispatch which was made by Foreign Minister Dato on August 8, the Spanish government points to Germany's poor return for services Spain had performed in purchasing her neutral policy by which Germany had benefited, according to a Madrid newspaper.

Germany has received numerous evidences of Spain's regard as summarized by this paper, such as in the case of the refugees from Germany, whom Spain aided for, and it is pointed out that in addition Spain had undertaken the representation of German interests in various belligerent countries. Nevertheless, the note continues, in return for these services and for benefits to Germany in consequence of Spanish neutrality, Germany has persisted constantly in causing injury to Spanish interests.

TWO SOLDIERS IN SALVATION ARMY JOINED FOR LIFE

First Army Wedding in This City for Years; Ceremony at Christian Church.

A Salvation Army wedding, the first to be held in this city for many years, occurred Thursday evening at the Court Street Christian church the contracting parties being Rose Gosse and Malcolm Penney, two soldiers in the local corps of the organization.

The church, the use of which was given the Salvation Army for the occasion, was filled with guests and additional seats had to be brought in to accommodate those in attendance.

The hour set for the wedding ceremony was eight o'clock and at the appointed time the bride party entered the church and to the music of the Salvation Army band marched down the broad aisle and took seats on the pulpit platform.

The wedding party was preceded by two dainty little flower girls, Hazel Lawrence and Frances Pike. They wore white muslin gowns, pink sashes and pink ribbons on their hair. Each carried a bouquet of baby's breath and maiden hair ferns.

The bride couple were the Salvation Army uniform, and were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Powell, the latter being the bride's sister, and Mrs. Edith Dury, also her sister, and Ambrose Penney, a brother of the groom.

The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair ferns and she, as also her two attendants, wore the white satin sash over the shoulder, which is the custom at a Salvation Army wedding.

The Salvation Army band rendered music as the guests were gathering.

The service was opened by Major Widgery of Portland, Me., and the opening hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung by the entire audience. Major Widgery introduced Col. Gifford of Boston, who is head of the Salvation Army work in New England and he conducted the service. The twenty-third Psalm was read, followed by prayer. Short talks were given by Ensign Beech and Mrs. Lawrence, wife of Captain Lawrence of the local Salvation Army Corps. The two little flower girls then sang "Never Let the Old Flag Die" and the audience at the request of Col. Gifford, joined in the chorus. Then all present were asked to join in the refrain of the Salvation Army hymn:

"Oh, I'm glad I'm ready
"Oh, I'm glad I'm ready
"Oh, I'm glad I'm ready
Ready to join the heavenly throng."

The marriage service then took place the bride couple and attendants standing in line on the pulpit platform. A member of the Army held the American flag at the head of the line and another the Salvation Army flag at the opposite end of the pulpit platform. The impressive service included an exchange of rings. Each pledged to live a Christian life and to assist the other to promote the welfare and efficiency of the Salvation Army work. The service closed with a prayer and benediction.

At its conclusion all were given an opportunity to greet the newly wedded couple, an informal reception being held in the church. At its close the bride party took automobiles and were driven to the Salvation Army hall where a wedding reception was held, about a hundred invited guests being present. A wedding feast was served in the hall at long tables prettily decorated with flowers. The menu included cold ham, salads, assorted cake, fruit, ice cream and coffee. In the center of the table was a wedding loaf which was cut by the bride and distributed to the guests.

The bride couple received numerous congratulations for their future welfare and happiness. They left later for a wedding trip of two weeks in Massachusetts and upon their return will pass a short time in this city, and about the middle of September they expect to leave for Philadelphia to take the year's training course at the Salvation Army College, preparatory to becoming officers in the organization.

The wedding presents were many, as not only were they received from friends of the couple but from others who did not know them personally, but who, realizing the great war work being done by the Salvation Army, felt that they would like to give some tribute to a couple who are devoting their life to its interests. Strangers telephoned to Salvation Army hall to know the name of the bride to have the opportunity to send her a gift. One couple from York, who had never met the contracting parties but had listened to the Saturday evening street meetings, sent a gift. The bride also received a Liberty Bond among her collection of tributes this being a gift from some friend.

Among the out of town guests were Col. and Mrs. Gifford, Adjutant-Nutcracker from the Army headquarters at Boston, Major Ridgeway, Portland, Me.; Ensign and Mrs. Beech, Dover; Mr. Leach of Haverhill, Mass., campaign manager of Salvation Army War work for New England, and Mr. and Mrs. McIntire of York.

Find Man's Body
FLOATING OFF SHORE

While Samuel Dexter of Ogunquit was off-shore fishing he saw the body of a man floating on the water. The man's shirt was pulled part way up over his head as though he had made an attempt to take it off in order that he might swim more freely. It had the appearance of being that of a fisherman.

Mr. Dexter was uncertain what he should do with the body should he secure it and let it go. He was then four or five miles off shore and realized that he would have difficulty in bringing it to shore should he take it in tow.

The appointment of Secretary Baker of the Chamber of Commerce to keep track of rent profiteering is a good thing. He will have the necessary government authority and knowledge of the landlords about this section will do well to take notice.

OLD RIVALS MEET AGAIN THIS EVENING

The Atlantic and the Shattuck will play a postponed game in the Sunset league this evening and it promises to be some game. The Atlantic team in their new uniforms will appear and play before the game and between the innings.

Just one thing more, the games here after will start promptly at 6:15 so be on hand and see the whole show.

LIGHTNING STRUCK NEAR DYNAMITE DUMP

The lightning in the storm of Thursday evening played around the Atlantic corporation. It struck near a shanty which guards the dynamite dump, and just after an army team had pulled away from that vicinity.

Outside of the plant on Cross street the wind upset a house that was in process of construction, but which did not have the foundation in.

KEEP YOUNG MEN IN COLLEGE

Concord, Aug. 15.—The secretary of War has recommended to Congress that all men between the ages of 18 and 45 register for military service. The Secretary has advocated that certain exceptions be made with reference to men in attendance at college. The War Department believes that young officers may best be trained by taking courses in college and receiving while here special military training. For these reasons the Secretary of War is anxious that young men qualified to enter college be urged to take college training until such times as their services in the army may be required.

A committee has been appointed in each state to urge upon qualified young men that they enter college with the opening of the fall term of this year. President Ralph D. Hetzel of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, Durham, has been appointed chairman of the committee for New Hampshire, and upon his recommendation the New Hampshire Committee on Public Safety at its meeting held on August 12 passed the following resolution:

Whereas, there is increasing need for men qualified to serve as officers and experts in the army of the United States and to aid in the important work of reconstruction following the war; and

Whereas, the War Department has established student army training corps in all colleges enrolling more than one hundred male students for the purpose of qualifying young men for these responsibilities; and

Whereas, enlistments in such student army training corps places the young men concerned in the army of the United States and in such position as to make it possible for them to be trained and selected so as to best provide for the needs of the army;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the New Hampshire Committee on Public Safety urges qualified young men of New Hampshire to attend the colleges and universities during the next college year, enlist in the student army training corps and thus fit themselves to serve the Nation in the time of its greatest need most economically and most effectively.

The Atlantic increased the long lead in the Sunset League Thursday evening by taking a game from the Army. By a score of 5 to 0. It was a good game and interesting from the opening to the end. The leaders had played in the box and hit pitched good ball allowing but four hits well scattered and struck out eight men. The got, his usual par, excellent support. Ralph Brackett, catching an exceptionally good game and Dameron, on first and Silva, at third contributed their bit, although it was remarkable that outside of Pierrotti and Brackett the infield did not have an assist to their credit.

Parent got two hits and Silva hit the ball in his usual good style. Thomas pitched for the Army and he was very effective striking out six men and allowing but two passed, and he got one support from Dow at third who pulled one fast double. Thomas made the only two errors of his team and they were both costly.

The Atlantic's in the first started with Parent getting a pass and going to second on Sweet's single and to third on a wild pitch. Kincaid hit a sharp grounder at Dow at third and he tagged Parent and doubled Kincaid at first.

In the second after two men had been retired, Pierrotti walked and he scored on a bad error by Thomas. In the third they scored three runs. Parent opened with a single and, able second, Sweet was hit. Kincaid hit to Thomas who fumbled, hitting the bases. Dameron fled to center. R. Brackett singled scoring Parent and Sweet. Silva singled and Kincaid scored. Brackett was thrown out at the plate on Pierrotti's bunt that Clair fielded and Thomas covered the home station, and Gourville fled to short.

They failed to score in the fourth although with one man out. Parent hit for two bases, Sweet fled to hit and Kincaid hit to left and Parent was thrown out at the plate. In the fifth Dameron opened with a three base drive and he scored on Silva's single after R. Brackett had fled to center.

In the seventh the Army opened with Hickman getting a three base drive but he was unable to score. Thomas striking out. Dow flying to Silva. Stone was passed and Morrison fled to left.

Cedar Chests

You'll find them in many stores, we have no monopoly on the cedar chest business, but we have spent quite a bit of time selecting those we have to show and, somehow or other, we believe there are a few chests here with features that you may not find in those exhibited elsewhere.

They are beautiful and if you want one purely for its ornamental value then the money you put into it is well invested, for there is no wood that is handsomer than Red Cedar.

Then, too, a cedar chest is one of the most useful articles on the markets. It is used, very popularly as a "Dowry Chest," or "Hope box." Also it might be suggested that it be used as a safe place to stow away your furs to protect them from the ravages of the moths.

GAVE LECTURE.

"Our Boys in France" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given on Thursday evening at the local Methodist church by Rev. Ross T. Hicks.

district superintendent of the Methodist churches.

The speaker told of the soldiers in training camps in this country and overseas, illustrating his talk with interesting slides.

HEN THIEVES AGAIN ACTIVE IN THIS CITY

Hen thieves are in evidence again in this vicinity at night, twice within the past week hen yards having been visited. At one henhouse on a farm on the outskirts of this city, thieves made way with a good number of hens and dropped one in the road in their haste to get away.

One night this week two men were seen at a hen house on Lafayette road, but the hens made such a disturbance that the occupants of the house were aroused and the parties hurried off. If caught, these thieves should be severely dealt with.
